

Reseller's PAT Testing Kit

PAT testing kit for charity shops, 2nd-hand electrical shops etc.

BattPAT Starter Kit

This kit is perfect for people wanting to test equipment in:-

- charity shops selling electrical goods
- 2nd hand electrical shops
- eBay sellers
- companies selling on used equipment
- companies selling specially manufactured equipment

This is a very simple machine, with easy push button operation. This is a simple PASS/FAIL device, although versatile enough to be used on most appliances. If you need a machine that will give straightforward and quick tests with no fuss (and no possibility of errors) - this is it!

This kit is perfect for testing electrical appliances for resale, or for small business or organisations needing a simple pat testing system. The microwave tester will be useful for checking leakage on microwave ovens, and the adaptors allow for testing of IEC (kettle) leads, cloverleaf laptop leads as well as all normal extension leads.

The PAT Testing labels supplied in this kit are small enough to fit onto the plug top, or onto the base of a small appliance (such as a table lamp) without being obtrusive. In accordance with the 4th edition of the IET Code of Practice, the labels have space for the test date, but not a retest date. We've supplied a full set of tools and some replacement plugs and fuses - essential if you're selling 2nd-hand electrical items!

Kit Includes:-

- BattPAT PAT Tester
- mains charger and test lead
- product verification certificate (doesn't require calibration until 12 months after first use)
- 2 rolls (500) small PASS labels
- 1 roll small FAIL labels
- 1 set of 7 VDE insulated screwdrivers
- 1 pair VDE wire cutting pliers
- 1 pair VDE pliers
- 1 pair VDE wire cutters
- 1 x socket tester
- selection pack of 50 spare fuses
- pack of 10 BS1363A mains plugs
- 1 x microwave tester
- 1 x adaptor to test laptop leads
- 1 x short IEC lead to test extensions
